

Joy some

by Corey Yoder of Coriander Quilts

Joy some is a breath of sherbet-sweet happiness come to life!

I used many of my favorite colors for this collection: creamsicle orange, lemon sherbet, rosy gelato pinks, minty greens, little scoops of dreamy lavender, sky-washed blues, and frosty aquas. It's like opening the freezer on a summer afternoon.

The prints in Joy some are equally dreamy. You'll find lots of flowers from large scale prints (just wait until you see the 108" wide fabric!), to the sweetest small scale florals. There is also a new sketchy print, plenty of low-volume options, stripes, and geometrics. The Tiny Peel print is back in a rainbow of sherbet colors sure to be favorites of many.

Create joyfully, give generously as the selvage says. I hope these cheerful prints inspire projects that brighten your sewing room and bring a little extra sweetness to the people you share them with.

Here's to sewing that feels sweet, refreshing, and full of delight—just the way joy should feel.
