

This collection is rooted in Sarah Watt's lifelong love of tattoos and the way they hold our stories, like small markers of the lives we are living. They honor a specific moment, a feeling, a season of life, and invite us to collect memories while embracing imperfections along the way.

As she began getting the tattoos she had always dreamed about, something shifted. She stepped out of a shell she hadn't realized she was still living in. It felt like a quiet rebirth—a realization that this was her body, and she gets to love it, claim it, and decorate it in ways that tell her story.

Sugar is back!

TATTOO TOUR!

I have a tiny gemstone tattoo to honor my R&S sisters!

The poppy frog is the last one to fill up my arms.

I adore frogs and poppy flowers!

I got the fish from the bunny fish sticker I sold at QuiltCon 2025. It represents abundance.

MYSTERY FOOD!

first appearance + newest print!

This print first appeared in Sarah's collection, Tokyo Train Ride, released in 2014!

This fan favorite has made many appearances in her collections since.

RS2139KIT Ruby Star Society | Stitch and Stash Tote Kit

We're excited to welcome back a fan favorite fabric by Sarah Watts, Mystery Food canvas! A design loved by many, it is a perfect match with the Stitch and Stash tote by Knot and Thread. A beginner-friendly pattern that is quick to sew - it features quilted panels, a roomy open interior, an exterior zip pocket, and seven slip pockets. This kit includes the fabric, supplies and pattern to make this bag, as well as an exclusive set of hardware from Stitch Supply Co. that includes brand new webbing by Alexia Marcelle Abegg!
